

NT INDEPENDENT COMMISSIONER AGAINST CORRUPTION MEDIA RELEASE

NT ICAC Appoints General Manager

7 February 2019

The Northern Territory Independent Commissioner Against Corruption (ICAC), Ken Fleming QC has announced the appointment of Territorian Matthew Grant to lead the Office of the ICAC as General Manager.

Mr Grant will be responsible for leading the operations of the Office of the ICAC including its investigations, prevention and business services functions.

Mr Fleming said he was delighted with the appointment of Mr Grant, who formally commenced his role on 7 January 2019.

“We are lucky to have attracted Matthew back to the Territory after many years interstate working with the Australian Federal Police and the Western Australia Corruption and Crime Commission (CCC),” Mr Fleming said.

“I am confident that Mathew is the right person to lead the operations of the Office of the ICAC.”

Mr Grant has ten years’ experience with the Australian Federal Police and most recently managed the Operations Directorate at the WA CCC.

He will work on the establishment of business systems and processes for the Office of the ICAC, commencing engagement with the Northern Territory Public Sector and Territorians, and development of the ICAC’s investigations capability, which will focus their service delivery to all Territorians.

The Office of the ICAC has filled current positions, and an Organisation Chart is attached. A summary of Mr Grant’s biography is below.
