

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Identify, disclose, manage and monitor conflicts of interest

WHAT IS A CONFLICT OF INTEREST?

A conflict of interest is a clash between our personal interests and professional duties. People working in public administration must be able to identify conflicts of interest when they arise, and take action to disclose, manage and monitor those conflicts.

Personal interests may include:

- obligations to family
- financial interests, for example:
 - secondary employment
 - shareholdings or directorship in a company
- social interests, for example:
 - volunteering
 - membership of a sporting club
 - political or religious affiliations.

Public officers must identify, disclose and manage their conflicts appropriately.

The Office of the ICAC provides information and training to help you understand conflicts of interest, and the importance of identifying, disclosing, managing and monitoring them.
